WHEN SHOULD I FILE A CLAIM?

RIGHT AWAY- You have the right to settle for an amount offered to you by a BP representative or claims center. However, if you settle without knowing the full extent of your damages, you cannot go back and ask for more money later. That is where we come in. We help you realize the full extent of your damages so that you receive the monetary amount that you are entitled to.

HOW DO I KNOW IF I HAVE A CASE?

Has your family been affected by the oil spill in the gulf?

Did your business lose money or potential customers due to the scare of the spill?

Will you be out of a job and out of income when the oil reaches your community?

If you answered "Yes" to any of these questions, you may have a case, and we can help you fight for the money that you have lost. Every American WILL be affected by this spill at some point. When it affects you, we will be here to fight for you.

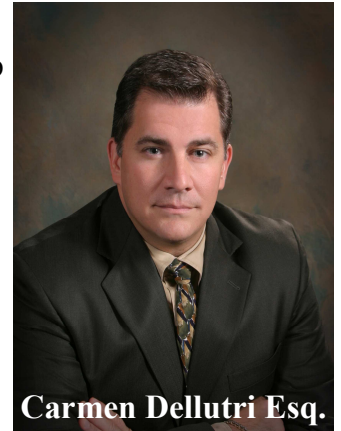

HOW IS THE SPILL AFFECTING US?

Approximately 40 million gallons of oil have already torn through the gulf waters and beaches. Will Florida be next? The leaking line will not likely be finished for at least another 2 months, which means that roughly another 25 million gallons could threaten our families, businesses, and eco systems in the very near future. Months after the rig has exploded, what has been done to stop this? Pensacola now has oil on their beaches. What will happen if a hurricane pushes all of that hazardous liquid right into our community? Something has to be done.

WHAT DO I DO NOW?

Keep track of EVERY loss that you suffer. Did a client cancel a boat trip because they were afraid of the oil? Did your restaurant suffer because of the seafood shortage? Did your hotel guests cancel their reservations because your hotel is located near the coast? Write down, and keep record of every single loss that your business has suffered, big or small.

Also, do not speak to any BP representatives without first consulting an attorney. Even if you think a settlement offer is sufficient, you may be eligible for a much greater claim without knowledge of it until you have spoken with an attorney. You may be unaware of the claim in which you are eligible for.
